Hunter Real Estate Group's team of agents consistently ranks as one of Houston's top-selling residential real estate companies. Halfway through its tenth year, Hunter Real Estate Group is celebrating its success by relocating to a newly remodeled office building purchased in Rice Village.

Repeat clients appreciate that the company's founders, Broker Trace Holcomb (BBA, Texas A&M) and Chris Charboneau (BBA and MBA, Texas Tech) provide sound advice and exceptional service during the home buying and selling process. The two friends and business partners grew up in Houston, so they are familiar with the city and its many suburbs and developments. Holcomb and Charboneau sold in excess of $20 million in real estate in 2006, and are off to an equally busy 2007.

Although the focus of their business is Houston's Inner Loop, Hunter Real Estate Group has experience all over Greater Houston:

Jim Kinahan concentrates on the Bellaire and Rice Military neighborhoods, and has developed a keen eye for spotting profitable investment deals.

Former teacher Terri Swete knows that patience and one-on-one attention puts her clients at ease. She specializes in residential sales and leasing in the Heights, Rice Military, River Oaks and Midtown areas.

Jay Holcomb specializes in residential sales and is one of Hunter's top producing leasing agents in the Inner Loop and Galleria area.

Whichever experienced agent you choose from Hunter Real Estate Group, you will receive knowledgeable advice and personal attention.
